

Bee Products!

Beekeeping is the heart of our family that we are proud of. We learned this profession through self-study, gaining knowledge from experienced beekeepers, reading a lot of literature and watching instructive online videos.

We produce beekeeping products (bee bread, pollen, honey, propolis, wax, cell honey), beekeeping products in dark chocolate, gifts related to beekeeping products, beehives and inventory. When we have a free time, we do handicrafts, making various jewelry, hair ornaments, boys' butterflies.

We try to improve so that everyone has the opportunity to choose the best of our products according to their taste.

We have taken care of product designs so that you can present as a beautiful gift for the holiday, a gift of thanks for wedding guests and a gift for partners.

Beekeeping products are used to strengthen immunity and provide energy. The most popular beekeeping products are honey, pollen, queen milk, propolis, bee bread and cellular honey. Beekeeping products should be used not only during illness, but also on a daily basis to strengthen immunity and so that viruses do not spread to your body. Those who are allergic to beekeeping products should not use these products.
